Music Industry: Full-Time Assistant Professor, tenure-track position beginning August, 2020. The Music Industry program in the Setnor School of Music at Syracuse University seeks an innovative music industry specialist to join our faculty beginning in the 2020-2021 academic year. The Music Industry program has witnessed unprecedented growth and is renowned for its 38 years of placing highly qualified graduates into the marketplace in every aspect of the business. Responsibilities of the position include teaching core curriculum courses in music business and music industry and the media; officiating over music industry forums; mentoring and coordinating student internships; participating in curriculum planning, assessment and new course development. Other responsibilities for this position include academic advising/mentoring for both music industry majors and minors and participating in governance and service to the institution. The successful candidate will establish a research agenda and record of publication/creative activity. Experience with arts/non-profit administration is a plus. A mentor will be assigned to advise and guide the successful applicant. Qualifications include a master's degree in music with documented music business experience of at least 5 years or a bachelor's degree in music business with a master's in a business or technical field with documented business or technical field experience of at least 5 years. The Setnor School of Music is committed to enhancing the diversity of our community and curriculum. We seek an individual who will engage and recruit a diverse student body while also embracing the values of a collaborative, interdisciplinary approach to research and teaching. Apply by submitting a letter of application, vitae, production work URL’s, and a reference list at http://www.sujobopps.com/postings/82105.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Candidates should complete the online application by November 1, 2019 to ensure full consideration.

Syracuse University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to equality of opportunity and a diverse work force.