ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Sustaining Membership

Sustaining membership is available to organizations in communications, manufacturing, research, and allied areas of the audio and acoustic fields. Sustaining Members help to support the society through contributions and receive recognition in the Journal and all AES publications.

Any corporation or organization making the requested minimum contribution annually to the society shall be eligible for sustaining membership of the society. Upon such appointment the sustaining member shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of the society except the right to vote, hold any office, or to serve on a standing committee.

Sustaining the Audio Engineering Society means endorsing its work. Toward this end, sustaining organizations should encourage their employees to join and become active in the Audio Engineering Society.

- A list of all Sustaining Members is printed in each issue of the Journal of the Audio Engineering Society.
- A brief description of the Sustaining Member will appear in the October issue.
- Each Sustaining Member will be listed on our website with a link to their organization's profile.

- A Sustaining Membership plaque will be awarded to each organization.

- Requested minimum contribution for a Sustaining Membership is $950

The Purpose of the Society

The Audio Engineering Society is organized for the purpose of uniting persons performing professional services in the audio engineering field and its allied arts of collecting, collating, and disseminating scientific knowledge in the field of audio engineering and its allied arts of advancing such science in both theoretical and practical applications and of preparing publishing and distributing literature and periodicals relative to the foregoing purposes and policies.

Publishing

The Journal of the Audio Engineering Society is distributed to all members and affiliates. The Journal carries articles on all aspects of audio; discussion through letters; standards; Society and industry news; developments in products and equipment; and membership information.

Journal, Convention, and conference papers can be purchased online at www.aes.org or through our headquarters office.

Sustaining Members are not entitled to use the Society's name in advertising or promotional programs. Sustaining Membership does not imply endorsement of the organization's products, publications, or services by the Audio Engineering Society. News about Sustaining Members is carried in "About Companies" in the Sound Track department of the Journal.
