Minutes taken by Christian Uhle

Attendees

Jouni Paulus,
George Fazekas,
Stephen Pope,
Matteo Torcoli,
Christian Uhle,

Agenda
- ~~welcome and self-introduction of participants~~
- review of the previous meeting
- proposals for workshops and tutorials for future conventions
- planning of the next AES International conference on Semantic Audio Analysis
- information about AES Symposium on Machine Learning for Audio Production

How can the TC get more active?

Shall we hold virtual meetings / web meetings?
- Advantage: Easier to join
- Decision: YES

What time?
- around 4 pm CEST
- or alternating time slots?
- Decision: suggest 4 pm CEST time slot, mention the discussion, ask for other preferences / needs for alternatives or alternating time slots

Frequency:
- every 2 months (as a starting point)

Proposals for workshops and tutorials for future conventions

- Possibly: repeating workshops on interesting topics
- Matteo had cancelled the workshop for Vienna – he will possibly submit it for the next European convention

What does Semantic Audio Analysis mean in 2020?

At this point we were discussing the more general questions, because we feel that the TC SAA could be more active and we were searching for reasons why is that so.

- What is the definition of Semantic Audio Analysis in 2020?
- Is an "adjustment" of the topic / TC needed
- TC SAA web site looks a bit out-dated. Who can help and re-fresh it:
    o George makes a suggestion.
- Is this a good workshop topic?

Agenda points for next TC meeting

- how can we attract more people?
- how can the TC be more visible?

Planning of the next AES International conference on Semantic Audio Analysis

- contact Alexander Lerch and ask if he is interested
- other potential candidates: Bryan Pardo

Information about AES Symposium on Machine Learning for Audio Production

- Christian informs the TC about this activity in a separate email or at the next meeting in 2 months
